Troopers Harvey Harris, left, and Mike Robertson work to free the body of Clinton Moore, 61, of Overland, who was killed at 2:20 p.m. Friday on Highway 60 one-and -one-half miles east of Morehouse when his car ran underneath a tractor- trailer truck driven by Terry Smith, 31, of Russellville, Ala. Auto crashes leave 5 dead

Three persons, including a Sikeston woman, were killed in three traffic accidents Friday and early today in New Madrid County and two Kennett residents died from injuries from an accident Friday in Kennett, the highway patrol reported today.

Emma Ashcraft, 28, of Sikeston died Friday night from injuries sustained in an accident at 9 p.m., four and one-half miles south of Matthews on Highway 61.

The accident occurred when the northbound car driven by Amon Ashcraft, 27, of Sikeston struck a wide cultivator attached to a farm tractor, driven north by Billy Mayberry 16, of Matthews Route One. According to the patrol, the cultivator was sticking out over the pavement and went through the windshield, striking Mrs. Ashcraft.Ashcraft's car than ran off the road through a fence and into a field.

Mrs. Ashcraft died at 10:35 p.m. in Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston. Her body was taken to Christian Memorial Funeral Home.

Two Kennett people died of injuries received Friday at the intersection of Astrachan and Riggs streets in Kennett.

Kennett police said today the accident happened when a car driven by Hugh Faron Smotherman, 17, of Kennett, traveling at an excessive rate of speed on Riggs Street, entered the uncontrolled intersection at the same time as a car driven east of Astrachan Street by Betty Lou Wayne, 49, of Kennett and struck the Wayne car in the left side. The Wayne auto was knocked through a yard and ran into the wall of a brick home owned by Mr. and Mrs. Tony Pankey. The car caved in the wall, breaking the crib of the couples' four-week- old baby, who remained uninjured.

Mrs. Wayne died at 5:05 p.m. Dunklin County at Memorial Hospital in Kennett and a passenger, Walter Wayne, 73, Mrs. Wayne's father-in-law, died enroute to a Memphis, Tenn. hospital.

Clinton C. Moore, 61, of Overland died at 2:20 p.m. one- and- one- half miles east of Morehouse on Highway 60 when his car crossed the center line and struck the side of tractor trailer truck driven east by Terry Smith, 31, of Russellville, Ala. The car glanced off the truck and went under the trailer, knocking out the rear trailer wheels.

The body was taken to Richards Funeral Home in New Madrid.

An Illmo teenager, Ralph Edward Oaks, was killed at 1:25 a.m. today in a headon collision, one-half mile west of Morehouse on Highway 60.

The patrol said today that for an unknown reason Oaks swerved across the center line into the westbound lane, colliding headon with a car driven by Harold Lloyd Glenn, 39, of Dexter Route Two.

Oakes was pronounced dead at the scene by New Madrid County Coroner Gene Clayton and the body was taken to Richards Funeral Home in New Madrid.

Glenn received a compound fracture of both legs and multiple bruises and scratches. A passenger, Connie Boswell, 25, of Bloomfield, suffered a fractured hip and a punctured right lung.

Myrna Hamil, 19, of Illmo, a passenger in Oaks auto, received severe burns to the back, shoulders and head and a fractured forearm. Another passenger, Debra Hamil, 16, of Illmo, suffered a possible back injury, cuts to her left shoulder and bruises and scratches. The injured were taken to Missouri Delta Community Hospital in Sikeston.

Patrolmen never know what to expect

Reporter rides with troopers

By MARY NOLEN

The heat of the night drove most citizens to the comfort of their homes and the restless ones to one of the local hang-outs to find a little "excitement." On Saturday, July 8, the "excitement" was carried to the extreme. A man was killed, meaning it was time for Troop E highway patrolmen to step into the picture.

For a patrolman it was not an uncommon experience, but for me it was the highlight of a month- long adventure of riding with Troop E patrolmen.

Their job was to maintain safety on the highways and in the homes of Southeast Missouri. My job ... to make an indepth study and report on their nightly missions.

A procedural drive to New Madrid with Cpl. Melvin Moyers brought a tip from city police ... trouble was expected in the city, an escaped assailant from New Jersey was expected for a secret meeting with a friend. Additional help was needed, so Cpl. Moyers summoned Troopers Harvey Harris and Randy Bess.

The man we were looking for — considered dangerous and armed — had said he would not be taken alive. Every trooper who has ever been involved in a stake-out knows this could be just another wild goose chase or the beginning of a dangerous episode.

Sirens blasting, patrol cars shot forward through narrow New Madrid streets, faster and faster, sliding through intersections, screeching to a crawl only to find the chase for the car described as the suspect's was only a false alarm.

The tense moments of waiting for the fugitive to arrive ended after a four-hour surveillance of the alleged meeting place failed to bring forth the culprit.

Investigating highway accidents plays a big role in a trooper's activities. A ride with Trooper Ron Ryan meant having to examine the results of a fatal accident. Trooper Ryan and I arrived at the scene of an accident involving two tractor- trailer trucks and a car four miles east of Wyatt on Highway 60 along with Trooper Jerry Crismon, two ambulances, emergency squad trucks and other law enforcement officers to assist the victims.

Upon our arrival, four injury victims were still in the car and three children lay dead along the embankment. A crowbar was used by Trooper Ryan to pry open the car to dislodge one of the passengers. After the injured were taken to the hospital and the bodies to the morgue the patrolemen rerouted traffic which was backed up for miles, even across the bridge to Cairo, Ill.

As a routine follow-up, Trooper Ryan went to St. Mary's Hospital in Cairo, Ill., to obtain information from the injured about the cause of the wreck. The mother, hardly injured, inquired about the condition of her children who were passengers in the mangled car. Since their deaths had not been confirmed, Ryan was unable to answer.

After leaving the hospital and going to the funeral home, Ryan, in turn, phoned Cairo police and advised them to notify the mother of the death of two sons and a granddaughter.

It took three days for highway patrolmen and wreckers to clear the tangled wreckage.

When Sikeston police tried to take a 16 - year - old girl into custody for curfew violation on July 6, a disturbance broke out at Park-A-Lot Drive Inn on East Malone Avenue and a call for assistance was radioed to Trooper Ryan.

With the help of Trooper Ryan, 10 young people involved in the scuffle were arrested and charged with interfering with a police officer, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Troopers' duties also often involve assisting county officers. Such was the case early on the Sunday morning of July 8 when patrolman Crismon was summoned by Scott County Sheriff John Dennis to a meeting at the Sikeston police station to discuss plans for apprehending a murder suspect.

Sheriff Dennis explained that the alleged killer had been taken into custody and advised the patrolman to examine the body at Missouri Delta Community Hospital and question witnesses there.

After consultation with a witness, the sheriff and the trooper discovered that earlier in the evening the victim had pulled a pistol on the alleged murderer in front of a local cafe. The accused slayer then apparently went home and got a shotgun.

The suspect reportedly was on the dance floor of the cafe when the other man approached him. Words were exchanged before the accused man allegedly fired the fatal blast.

Upon examination, a cut on the victim's head was discovered by Sheriff Dennis and Trooper Crismon, apparently indicating that he had been struck with the shotgun after the shot.

A trooper's lot is not always one of gruesome details. It also consists of much time consumed in paper work, automobiles and operator's license examinations.

A patrolman is responsible for submitting a report on the number of arrests he has made, accidents investigated, warning tickets issued, traffic violation tickets written and disposition forms explaining court actions taken against violators of the law. This information is sent to the Troop E commander, Capt. W. C. Brooks, in Poplar Bluff.

Paper work in the office sometimes leads to action on the road. One such instance involved a police demand order issued by the Department of Revenue to an individual who refused to send in his operator's license after he had received two letters requesting he do so. The man had been convicted for driving while intoxicated, which automatically revoked

POOR CHARLIE SAYS!

When some people do wrong, people talk about it in whispers, but when certain other people misbehave, they shout about it.

* * *

KEEPING ONE'S IDENTITY

Is it a good thing to forget the past? In a recent issue of Intellectual Digest, Charles Robbins contends that putting one's past and present together is a key to happy living; and he cites the example of our late President, Harry S. Truman, for one to follow.

Says Mr. Robbins; "Some people, including many of those who have retired, try to use the past as an escape from the present; but President Truman used it to put the present in perspective."

In a letter to Mrs. Truman some time after the late president's death, Robbins spoke of the man as he knew him during the summer of 1953. "I was president of the country," he seemed to be saying, "but I don't want to forget I'm also the fellow who went to school (in Independence, Missouri) and plowed a pretty straight furrow on this farm."

Unlike many who retire with plans to use endless leisure time for fishing, golfing and recreation, and who then find themselves bored and disoriented, Truman always seemed to have his bearings. He seemed to know exactly why he was in his position in time. Says Robbins: "I've never met anyone whose idea of his own identify was clearer."

Nearly everyone knows the story of Cinderella and the pumpkin which turned into a golden coach and then into a punpkin again. President Truman viewed the presidency in a somewhat similar form. It was a "temporary" position where a man, an ordinary citizen, had enough power in his hands to dazzle a foreign dictator or conquer a world, and after the end of his supreme experience he drops back into an everyday life and is expected to carry on as if nothing much had ever happened. This was the essence of democracy as Truman saw it. Or, as he put it, he loved the idea that "anybody can be President and, when he reaches the end of his term, he can become anybody again."

Harry S. Truman found contentment in retired years in the philosophy expressed by Kipling: "If you can walk with Kings and not lose the common touch, yours is the earth and everything that's in it," -- and what's more -- "You'll be a man, my son."

THE GUNS OF AUGUST

Consumer groups are on the warpath in the wake of Phase IV food- price increases. Spearheading the attack is Fight Inflation Together, a group of women who led last April's national meat boycott. But now they have a far broader target. Tuesday, Aug. 7, has been designated "Don't Buy Anything Day." Anything in this instance means everything. Consumers across the country are being urged to refrain, for one day at least, from buying any food, gasoline, clothing or other items.

Joan Sheets, leader of Fight Inflation Together, has suggested that housewives use the time they normally would devote to shopping on Aug. 7 to compose letters to the White House and Congress demanding price relief. Supporters of the boycott include such powerful consumer groups as the million- member New York Consumers Assembly, Women United for Action, and the National Consumers Congress. The latter's chairwoman, Ellen Zawel, urged that shoppers tell Congress "to stop giving handouts to big business." She also assailed the White House for "obviously acting in a contradictory manner."

Unfortunately, last April's boycott was followed by a price increase. And boycotts are invariably accompanied by a hoarding spree, as evidenced by shoppers' reaction to recent reports of meat shortages and further price increases. While a meat industry spokesman has assured shoppers that "in the long run, the housewife will get more meat and at a cheaper cost," consumer groups evidently agree with John Maynard Keynes that "in the long run, we'll all be dead."

A DIFFERENT DEFINITION

What's in a word? A world of difference, when one compares the meaning of words from one continent to another.

According to our foreign policy experts, these are days of "detente" between the U. S. and the U.S.S.R. (otherwise known as the United States of America and the Union of Socialist Soviet Republics.)

However, Editor- publisher, R. W. Orrell of Our Country, Cardinell, Virginia, points out that what we mean by "detente," and what the communists mean by "detente," are two completely and entirely different things.

In the United States, the word Detente is defined in Webster's New Collegiate Dictionary as: "a relaxation of strained rleations or tensions (as between nations)."

However, the same word is defined in the World Marxist Review, the official international publication of the Communist Party, as follows:

"Detente implies a definite concession by imperialism and, moreover, a forced concession, imposed on it in defiance of its doctrines and concepts. That alone should make it clear that a telling blow is being dealt imperialism's ideological position."

Is it true that President Nixon has been "forced to make concessions" to Communism? Has a "telling blow" been dealt against our ideological position? President Nixon should be asked which definition of detente is true; ours, or theirs?

SPAINHOWER'S GOOD STEWARDSHIP

State Treasurer James I. Spainhower has compiled a commendable record in his first six months in office, particularly in his administration of $50 million in idle funds.

Spainhower has spread deposits statewide, putting money in 327 banks in 89 counties and the City of St. Louis. Most of the money is earning Missouri taxpayers 7 per cent interest.

Deposits are being made on a formula which returns to counties an amount proportionate to the total paid to the state in income and sales taxes.

Spainhower chooses banks for deposits not on basis of favoritism, but on the banks' own winningness to maintain a loan- deposit rate of 50 per cent, plus paymenet of the maximum rate of interest allowed by law. The 50 per cent rate means 50 cents must be loaned for each dollar deposited.

On the whole, Spainhower's stewardship has been meticulously good.

YOU NEED GOOD HEALTH TO MAKE GOOD SELLING

Good sales volume and good health seem to go hand in hand. Satchel Paige, that fabulous old Negro baseball pitcher, conjured up some good advice once that works for both health and selling.

Avoid fried meats which angry up the blood.

If your stomach disputes you, lie down and pacify it with cool thoughts.

Keep the juices flowing by jangling around gently as you move.

Go light, very light on the vices, such as carrying on in society. The social rumble ain't restful.

Avoid running at all times.

Don't look back. Something might be gaining on you.

WHY BEEF SPIRAL? FACTORS ARE MANY

It would be nice to be able to finger a villain or villains responsible for the recent staggering increase in meat prices, not to mention other foods. Yet there is no simple answer as to why beef prices have risen so sharply.

Latest figures show that the third quarter of 1972 net profit of supermarket chains was 0.6 per cent of sales before taxes (down from 1.5 per cent a year earlier). After taxes, this 0.6 per cent would be halved to 0.3 per cent of sales.

In other words, for every $10 spent by a housewife at a supermarket the profit to the store was 3 cents. The Super Market Institute reports that fully 28 per cent of all supermarket companies operated at a loss in the third quarter of 1972.

Total supply of marketable beef increased by about two per cent in 1972 over 1971. Predictions are that 1973 will show an increase of about 3 per cent- hardly enouh to keep up with demand.

Per capita consumption of beef by Americans is expected to teach an all-time high of 118 pounds in 1973. It was 115.9 pounds in 1972.

Bitter cold and record snowstorms in cattle - producing areas of the western plains in late 1972 took a heavy toll of beef cattle that normally would be supplying the domestic market now and in the months ahead.

Many ranchers sold their cattle to feedlots prematurely to avoid losing them to weather. The added expense of feeding cattle for longer periods in the feedlots pushed up the prices paid by packers.

Whole sections of the country which produces grain were deluged with rain during the harvesting season. Even now, some of last year's crops remain unharvested.

Bad weather also affected crops in Russia, China and Indian. The Soviet Union alone is buying well over $1 billion worth of grain from the United States, giving another push to grain prices.

President Nixon's recent order to activate 40 million acres of idle land offers some hope for increasing production and lowering prices in the future.

Late last year, the government announced that all quotas would be suspended on meat imports through 1973, but this action is not expected to relieve the immediate supply crisis because of rising standards of living in other countries. Wherever beef is produced, there is more demand to keep it.

In the beef- rich Argentine, meatless days have been imposed as a result of severe droughts that have parched grazing lands.

Another little- known and uncertain factor in spiraling beef prices is food stamps. Government expenditures in the Federal Food Stamp Program for supplementing the diets of low- income families in the current fiscal year are running at an annual rate of $2.2 billion.

Food stamps may be used only to buy food, and as Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz points out, "One of the first items purchased with added dollars in the food budget by consumers eligible for food stamps is meat — preferably beef."

No one can blame the housewife for fussing and fuming over high beef prices, but no one can pin point a profiteer in the beef- rising process, from range to counter. It is a volatile business, subject to many influences, the principal ones being demand, supply, general inflation and weather.

One thing is certain: Only when beef supplies become adequate to meet demand is there a chance for prices to level off permanently and perhaps go down.

UP, UP AND AWAY!

Minimum wage legislation might be compared to a baloon. The more you inflate it, the higher it goes until it bursts.

Understandably, this remains a popular Congressional subject. Upping wages is a sure- fire vote getter in spite of the fact that it turns out to be a fiscal mirage!

When the base wage is increased by government mandate, the entire wage structure is disturbed. It sets up a demand for increases all along the line, irrespective of other considerations such as international competition, productivity growth and higher prices in the marketplace.

Increasing the wage base also reduces the opportunity for the less- skilled and others to enter the job market. They cannot compete with the more experienced talent which is available at higher and higher base wages.

Let's be realistic. The creation of a higher wage base has not assisted those it is designed to help — and more often has in fact tended to limit the creation of job opportunities for them.

Congress is considering many bills to raise the minimum wage. The danger of inflating the balloon is real! And so is the danger of its explosion.

She picked up the dime and said, "My mother always taught me to take the smallest piece."

Picking up the dollar bill also, she added, "But, so I won't lose the dime, I'll take this piece of paper to wrap it up in!"

A NEW DAY

In late years, the consequences of fragmented policies concerning transportation regulation and taxation have been reflected in the declining fortunes of our most basic transport medium -- the railroads. Year after year, the inertia of the legislative process has sidetracked needed action. This year, there are signs of a dramatic change.

In a historic move, railroads, truckers and water carriers have now joined in support of the Surface Transportation Act of 1971 -- a proposal before Congress which has been called by top spokesmen of the railroad industry " ... an important step toward solving urgent problems affecting America's surface transportation ..." A spokesman added that, "The bringing together of these three highly competitive modes to work for a common cause is, in itself, a significant development ... The railroads strongly endorse this bill, even though it does not embrace all of the long- range proposals advanced for our own industry ..."

U. S. Senator Vance Hartke, one of the sponsors of the Surface Transportation Act of 1971, comments, "I think this proposal is a helpful start ... Basically, what we need to do is to power the familiar cycle of private enterprise operations. Earnings result in an incentive for investment, investments result in an improved efficiency, improved efficiency shapes up the competition and produces a reaction of investment in improved efficiency on the part of the competition, improved efficiency results in better earnings, which again results in new investments. In the transport industry this cycle has slowed down ... What I want to see is a repowering of that productive cycle in transportation, a cycle which has made America the most prosperous country in the world." At long last, a new day may be dawning in transportation.

Billion- Dollar Robbery:

Probers Have Heavy Files on Complex Welfare Fraud Get-Rich- Quick Schemes

WASHINGTON--- There are those who believe that the nation's welfare money is a constant freshet from a bottomless pit. They are caseworkers and administrators who have permitted about a billion dollars a year to disappear--- lost, strayed or stolen--- wasted on the development of a belly dancer's talents, or payments to addicts in prison, or pouring welfare checks into the homes of imprisoned drug pushers, or helping "clients" to maintain duplexes, expensive cars, boats and a style of living to which not too many taxpayers are accustomed.

All this is just a preview of what will be reported by several hundred prosecutors and investigators expected to make up the delegations of a regional National Welfare Fraud Assn. conference in Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 15- 16.

They will prove that the time has come not to end every revelation of massive welfare thievery with an apology for exposing welfare looting. This is not aimed at the poor. It is aimed at crooks, con artists, get- rich- quick operatives. Shaking down the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, which supervises the expenditure of some $83 billion annually for the poor, the crippled, the helpless, the friendless, the aged, is no different from a Mafia shakedown of a struggling mom- and- pop store or a multi- million- dollar contractor.

Nor is there any longer a need to repeat that such thievery of the moneys intended for the poor is universal; that it is not confined to the concentrated industrial states and tragic ghettos; and that there is no color line.

For example, there is the case of the Minnesota lady who received $23,000 over eight months in welfare grants and medical expenses. She claimed her husband had left her and she needed assistance. Then investigators proved that he had gone for a month- long business trip to southern California. He had returned and, of course, lived normally at home during the entire period she had received money from Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC).

And--- they owned their own home on the shores of Lake Minnetonka. Also two duplexes inside Minneapolis and a $60,000 farm.

Further, in Minnesota, a woman on welfare for some six years had defrauded the state of $18,000. She had considerable unreported income and thus she was ineligible. She worked full-time for the State of Minnesota Manpower Services, no less, as a computer technician under a name different from the one she used to get AFDC "assistance." Also she worked part- time evenings as a Sears-Roebuck computer aid and was remarried under a third name. The happy couple lived in a $60,000 home in suburban Minneapolis.

She and her husband were earning $700 per week--- plus welfare assistance.

There are scores of cases of this wanton stealing from the poor, and from the taxpayer. Remember these thieves when you mail your income- tax check next April 15.

And in a rural town some 30 miles from Boston, Mass., there is a couple who owned a boat and had a regular income of over $250 a week. They just didn't report it when they appealed for welfare assistance. They stole $11,888.46 from the welfare funds in some two years.

Also in Massachusetts, there is the lady who was an AFDC "client." She nonetheless worked steadily for an insurance agency and ran her own income- tax preparation service. She didn't report her employment income. That's all. She took welfare money by the thousands, though she earned over $12,000 annually.

How many such cases? It will be fascinating to see the results of the new Illinois Earnings Clearance System which will match welfare payments with the unemployment insurance and other wage records in state and federal files.

But back to the gold mines. There is the lady who was in an Albany, N. Y., prison. She was doing time for possession of drugs and a weapon. But her welfare checks continued arriving at her home. And she had been receiving welfare payments for maintenance of her two- year- old son--- though the welfare institutions were caring for him.

I've learned of similar cases of welfare checks going to the homes of imprisoned criminals. One agency simply neglected to inform another or just didn't care.

And there is the California couple who used to make the rounds of the counties, report to welfare authorities they were newly arrived, say they needed assistance until they got their first paycheck, get the welfare aid and move on. In one month they took in over $800. And they were at it for some 11 months.

Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare "Cap" Weinberger tells me such thievery and overpayments come to "well up in the hundreds of millions of dollars annually, and we're going to slash it."

Weinberger has another project which will save his department tens of millions of tax dollars. When he took over recently, he learned HEW has 1,200 publicity and public affairs specialists--- who run a $175 million- a- year operation.

Now he's cutting it in half. Thus he'll save the government, Weinberger says, from a "needlessly massive" and "counterproductive" expense.

And how can they help the poor, the ailing and the aged? Trimming the p.r staff will save tens of millions of dollars.

Also bound for the payroll sunset will be 73 public affairs consultants (who somehow were "needed" by the 1,200 official specialists). Some $3 million in publicity contracts will be wiped out. Also to be cut down will be the Department's 330 annual publications, 74 periodicals, 50 internal newsletters and 946 single- shot publications.

The cose of these publications has been $120 million. Could be HEW was a bottomless ?pit. But those days are over. The point is to help the poor, not the professionals who have made an industry of it all, and certainly not the con artists.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Jack Anderson

JACK ANDERSON SAYS:

Falsified Bombing Reports, This Time in Florida Forest

WASHINGTON-- The Navy bombed and burned more than 1,200 acres of the Ocala national Forest in Florida and then, Cambodia- style, falsified the reports.

Despite the disastrous fires, the Navy continued to explode live bombs in a preserve which the U. S. Forest Service describes as the biggest recreation attraction of any national forest in the East.

A confidential General Accounting Office field investigation found that, during March 1972, the Navy dropped 421 live 500- pound bombs on its Pinecastle test range in the Ocala forest.

On March 25, a hail of 56 bombs ignited a fire that burned 600 acres of the national forest. Two days later, 24 more bombs started another fire which spread from the testing grounds into the park, destroying 620 additional acres.

The Navy claimed in its environmental report that "permission was granted by the appropriate officials as the fire potential index was not at a level sufficiently high to halt operations."

Again, the Navy's May 1973 environmental impact statement claimed that "after the fires, the use of live ordnance was discontinued." On the contrary, the GAO will charge that 655 live 500-pound bombs and 242 250-pound bombs were dropped on the test range between April 1972 and May 1973.

In Jacksonville, Fla., Navy Capt. E. W. Ingley confirmed to us that live ordnance 'certain y" was used but insisted that it amounted to no more than "two or three per cent of the total practice ordnance." He also stressed that the Navy takes "elaborate safety precautions" when using live ordnance. "Naval aviation is national security," he added.

As late as last month, however, Rep. Bill Gunter, D-Fla., protested that bomb drops on July 18 had "needlessly frightened 250 youngsters at one children's camp in the forest."

The freshman from Florida called for the GAO probe after he had a personal experience with the falling bombs. While he was delivering a speech in the Eustis Civic Center near the forest, the building began to shake from the shock waves of the exploding bombs.

TAPES STALEMATE? Sources close to the Supreme Court suggest that the vote on the controversial White House tapes could end in a tie. Justice William Rehnquist, whose vote might break the tie, may have to disqualify himself, they say.

The Supreme Court is expected to rule, in the end, on whether President Nixon must surrender his secret White House tapes to Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox and the Senate Watergate Committee. The case is now awaiting action in the lower courts.

Rehnquist's law clerk, Robert Wild, conceded to us that "there definitely will be a question "whether the justice should participate in the decision. "He hasn't said a word about it," said Wild. "I'm not sure whether he's even looked into it, so there's no decision one way or the other."

The aide stressed it would be "a personal decision." Rehnquist would have to consider his past national security activities as a Justice Department official and his close association with key figures involved in the case.

During his Senate confirmation hearings, he said: "My client, in my position as the assistant attorney general for the Office of the Legal Counsel, is the attorney general and the President."

Supreme Court sources say the case of the White House tapes involved not only eavesdropping but executive privilege. Rehnquist worked on both questions while he was at the Justice Department.

Indeed, he assured the Senate that he would likely disqualify himself on a case involving national security wiretapping.

VESCO'S YACHT: Robert Vesco, the international financier indicted with former Attorney General John Mitchell and former Commerce Secretary Maurice Stans in a swindle and coverup case, is now a fugitive from the FBI. But U. S. Customs agents have cut off one means of flight by seizing his fabulous yacht, the Patricia III, formerly the Romantica, in a Miami boatyard.

Vesco was not aboard when the customs men struck, but the yacht is being held until the United States can decide whether Vesco owes customs duties on the English- built craft.

Nor is this the first time Vesco has had trouble with yachts. In June, we reported how his yacht sliced the anchor cable of another vessel, then sailed off to the Bahamas with Vesco calling: "You know my address. Send me the bill."

Kiwanis to sponsor circus

MALDEN — The Malden Kiwanis Club will sponsor the Carson and Barnes Five-Ring Wild Animal Circus in Malden for two performances on Sept. 20.

Mike Bullock, secretary-treasurer of the Kiwanis Club, said the circus is being brought to Malden to enable the children of the community to enjoy a traditionally wholesome form of entertainment that is uniquely American. Proceeds will be used for youth projects in the community. The club will benefit greatest from the sale of advance tickets, which will be available for children and adults from members of the club at a date to be announced later.

The all- new edition of the circus, said to be America's largest wild animal circus, will feature scores of imported and domestic circus acts, traditional circus spectacles, performing wild animals and other acts climaxed by the performing elephants of the show.

Performances on circus day will be held at 5 p.m. and at 8 p.m. with the entrances open earlier to allow time for viewing the wild animals before entering the big top.

Firemen called to Layton home

Firemen were called at 4:33 p.m. Friday to the John Layton home, 412 Broadway, when members of the family returned home and smelled smoke.

Firemen said the smoke was caused by a portable electric oven that had been left on. There was no damage and no fire, firemen said.

Ann Landers

Sometimes the best gift is keeping the mouth shut

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing about the lady who hasn't spoken to her sister in eight months. When this lady was in the hospital, her husband tried to get intimate with her sister, and Sis, of course, told her about it. Some people have big mouths, don't they?

Thirty years ago, when I was 17, my sister's husband informed me that every young girl should have an experienced teacher to acquaint her with "the facts of life." He offered his services. I told him he was out of his mind and that if he ever suggested such a thing again I'd clobber him. He kept his distance from that dav forward.

Now, 20 years later, my husband and I, my sister and her husband are good friends and we enjoy one another's company. I never referred to that ugly incident again but I'm sure he hasn't forgotten it. I know, too, that he is deeply grateful to me for not having run to his wife with the story. I always wondered why my father's family never got along. It wasn't till later that I learned my aunt was in the same spot when she was young. She told her sister and created a rift in the family that never healed.

Dear Cham: I'll try Sometimes the greatest gift you can bestow is to keep your mouth shut.

Dear Ann Landers: When I heard you speak at the Art Center in Midland, Michigan, I decided you were the one who could help me. I am all mixed up. I am in my very early 20s and engaged to marry a man I through I knew well. Now I discover he has been lying about a few things. He said he was 27, has two children and was divorced two years ago. He is actually 36, has six children and is still married.

Need I tell you I was shocked? But I still love him and can't give him up.

I am trying to get my family to be forgiving Christians and accept this man but they stubbornly refuse to discuss it. I have been going to church regularly and praying for divine guidance but so far I haven't received it. Help me, please.--Love Him

Dear Love: My answer is in your letter. It's the second sentence.

The reason you aren't getting any "divine guidance" is that you and the Lord are on different wave lengths. He's on the side of the wife and six kids.

Dear Ann Landers: This little prayer has helped me through many rough spots. Maybe it will help someone else. Please print it.

Dear God: Help me be a good sport in this game of life. I don't ask for an easy place in the line- up. Put me anywhere you need me. I only ask that I can give you 100 per cent of all I have. If all the hard drives seem to come my way, I thank you for the compliment. Help me remember that you never send a player more trouble than he can handle.

Help me. Oh Lord, to accept the bad break as part of the game. And may I always play on the square, no matter what the others do. Help me study The Book so I'll know the rules.

Finally, God, if the natural turn of events goes against me and I'm benched for sickness or old age, please help me to accept that as part of the game, too. Keep me from whispering or squealing that I was framed or that I got a raw deal. And when I finish the final inning, I ask for no laurels. All I want is to believe in my heart that I played as well as I could and that I didn't let you down. (By Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston)

Dear Friend: Thank you.

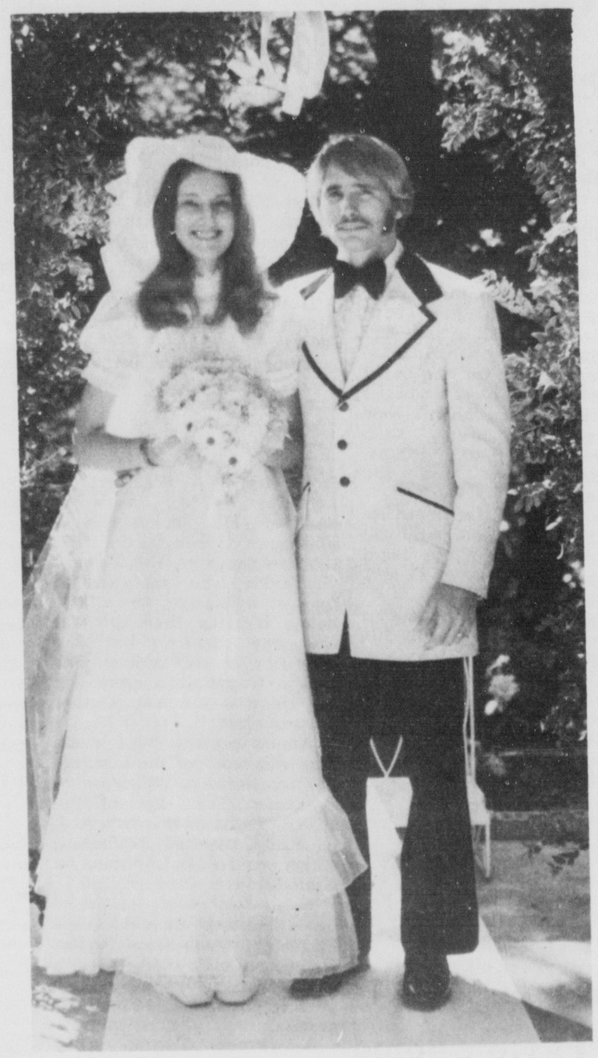
Vicki Jones, David Moyers exchange vows June 23



Mr. and Mrs. David Charles Moyers

Miss Vicki Jane Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Jones, 303 Greer, became the birde of David Charles Moyers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Moyers, 815 Cambridge, in a garden setting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Jones of Dexter on June 23. The double- ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Otto Dvorak.

The altar setting featured a brass arch entwined with greenery and baskets of daisies on either side. A white runner led to the kneeling bench where the couple exchanged wedding vows.

Prenuptial music was provided by Miss Angela Shell of Dexter. Mrs. Marlys Smith of Cape Girardeau sang, "More", "Ava Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied by Miss Shell.

Escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a long gown of polyester organza over taffeta. The embroidered organza bodice featured a high neckline encircled with a self ruffle and Venise lace interlaced with white satin ribbon. The short puffed sleeves were trimmed with the same lace.

A full skirt of polyester organza was encircled with double ruffles around the hem, with bands of Venise lace with satin ribbon beading above the flounce. A tailored organza bow accented the back waistline with back fullness of the skirt extending into a sweep train. The bride wore a wide-brimmed picture hat of bubble braid, adorned with imported English illusion forming a bow in the back with streamers. She carried a nosegay of white daisies and roses with baby's breath.

Mrs. Barbara Jones, sister-in- law of the bride, was matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Beverly Barnes, Miss Jackie Schindler and Miss Ann Hammock. They wore long empire gowns of gingham in colors of pink, blue, yellow and green. The dresses were trimmed in lace at the bottom ruffle, the neck and around the short puffed sleeves. The waist was accented with ribbon to match the color of their dress. They also wore wide-brimmed picture hats trimmed with ribbon and long streamers. The attendants carried small white wicker baskets filled with spring flowers.

Miss Lee Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Jones of Dexter, niece of the bride, was flower girl. Her dress of lavender was styled like those of the bridesmaids. She wore lavender ribbons trimmed with daisies in her hair and carried flowers like those of the bridesmaids.

Eric Jones, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. He wore a lavender shirt and short black pants and vest.

The groom chose Terry Schaefer as best man. Groomsmen were Gary Ryan, Tom Ryan and Tim Lambert.

A reception followed the ceremony. Presiding at the guest book were Miss Jana Moyers, sister of the groom, and Miss Julie Harbin. Serving guests were Mrs. Brenda Winters, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Carletta Boardman, aunt of the bride.

After a short wedding trip, the couple now lives at 904 Stanford Drive.

A rehearsal dinner was given at Security Federal Savings and Loan Association Friday evening by the groom's parents.

The bride was also honored at a shower given by Mrs. Gordon Beaver, Mrs. George Doyle, Mrs. Jackie Grant and Mrs. Howard Napier on June 9.

MUNGER — Mr. and Mrs. Joe Munger Jr., 216 Kinder, are parents of their first child, a son, born July 28 at 10:33 p.m. in Missouri Delta Community Hospital. The child weighed eight pounds three and one- half ounces and has been named Jonathan Pierce.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Duncan of New Madrid. Paternal grandparents are Mrs. Joe Munger, 840 Tanner, and the late Joe Munger. Munger is an industrial arts teacher and Mrs. Munger is a home economics instructor at Sikeston High School.

The first tumblers probably performed at primitive farm settlements to earn food and lodging with magic and sleight-of-hand stunts. Acrobats and conjurers later banded together and toured the country, playing to paying audiences.

Opera program one of theater's best

ST. LOUIS-- The month of August at Municipal Opera promises to be the most exciting in the theatre's illustrious, 55- year history. St. Louis theatre- goers will have the opportunity to see two, sparkling Broadway-bound musicals, the biggest hit- musical on Broadway, the greatest ballet company in the world, and the national touring company of one of the most successful hits from Broadway.

Carol Channing lends her unique personality to her first musical since "Hello, Dolly!" and recalls some of her frivilous capers as the blonde most gentlemen perfer in the new musical "Lorelei," now through Aug. 5, for seven- nightly performances. Scheduled for a Broadway opening following its Municipal Opera engagement, "Lorelei" is based on material from the original production of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." Miss Channing plays the title role, with Dody Goodman, Tamara Long, Peter Palmer and Lee Roy Reams featured in the cast.

Hailed by critics as "a stunning, fun show," Broadway's newest hit-musical, "Irene," starring outstanding personality Debbie Reynolds, will interrupt its New York run for its St. Louis engagement, beginning Aug. 6 for seven-nightly performances, and then will return to New York's Minskoff Theatre to continue playing to capacity houses. This beautiful production offers some of the most breath- taking musical numbers ever presented.

On Aug. 13, the Bolshoi Ballet, one of the most honored and celebrated companies in the world will have its St. Louis premier for seven stunning performances. The American visit was arranged by the Municipal Theatre Association with S. Hurok, who previously brought the Royal Ballet of London, the Ukrainian Dance Company and the Moiseyev Dancers to the Municipal Opera.

"The show for everyone," "Two Gentlemen of Verona," is being presented with the National Touring Company. Celebrated producer Joseph Papp has been credited with the joyful process of creating the hit-musical with spirit and energy that flows from the start. Add to this music by Glat MacDermot (who composed the music for "Hair") and an explosive cast that performs almost 40 songs and the result is an open, popular musical production based on a play by William Shakespeare.

After nearly a decade, celebrated composer Alan Jay Lerner and Frederick Loewe "(Camelot," "My Fair Lady") have again put their heads and hearts together and come up with an exciting new musical-- "Gigi". The production moves from the west coast to St. Louis for a 13- night engagement Aug. 28- Sept. 9, followed by a subsequent Broadway opening. It is a stage adaptation of the Academy Award- winning film and stars Alfred Drake, Agnes Moorehead, Maria Karnilova, Daniel Massey and Terese Stevens in title role.

One-run decisions

Chaffee and Scott City moved into the semifinals of the Jr. Babe Ruth invitational baseball tournament at VFW stadium Friday night, claiming narrow one-run victories. Scott City edged Parma 1-0 and Chaffee squeezed past Portageville 4-3.

Sikeston's two entries into the 12- team event square off at 7 this evening in the first of two semifinal encounters. The Reds will try to upset the favored all-stars. At 9 Chaffee and Scott City play.

The championship will be held Sunday.

Portageville edged into the lead during the first inning of play by a single run. Chaffee matched their play in the following inning to bring the score to a 1-1 tie. Going back to Portageville's bat, they once again grabbed a claim on the lead, slipping one run across the plate. Fourth inning scoring by both teams put the game into a tie once more. Each team struggled to hold the other while trying to score and it was Chaffee who finally broke through. In the final inning, Chaffee squeezed a run in to move into the championship bracket. Duncan was the winning and Dial the losing pitcher.

The second game of the night was a real battle as four innings went scoreless. The lone run in the game came in the fifth inning when Dohogne scored. Parma could not put a mark on the scoreboard and had to suffer the loss.

Gluek was credited with the win and Schlosser had the loss.

Stars, I-SC in finals

The Sikeston All- Stars moved into championship competition Friday night after their 9-4 victory over the Jackson Stars in the Sikeston 9-10 Year Old Invitational Tourney. Illmo-Scott City eliminated the Sikeston Aces 14-2 behind the one- hit pitching of Scott Little.

The Jackson Stars slipped into a first inning advantage scoring three to Sikeston's two runs. The All-Stars were able to stay within reach and brought the game to a tie in the third. In the following inning, the Sikeston team inched ahead with two runs to claim the lead. Jackson remained in contention when they scored a single run but they could not hold the All-Stars in the final inning and four insurance runs were added for the win. Cortez Smith had a strong showing both defensively and offensively. Credited with the win, he helped out in the hitting department with two doubles. Self also had a good night going four- for- four, with two of his hits being doubles. Nogel suffered the loss.

Scott Little proved to be a little too tough for the Sikeston Aces to handle. Illmo- Scott City blasted the Aces for six big runs in the first inning to jump into the lead. An additional run in the second gave them a comfortable standing. Sikeston brought across a lone run in the third and fourth inning each but it was not enough as Scott City once again exploded and scored seven to place them in the championship title bracket. Little was four- for- four at bat earning a single, double and two triples. Goodman also hit a double for Scott City. Williams was the losing pitcher.

The Sikeston All- Stars will now face Illmo- Scott City for the first place honors while the Sikeston Aces will battle Jackson for third place.

Young, Deal star

POPLAR BLUFF — Jeff Young hurled a no- hitter Friday night as the Sikeston National League all- stars claimed third place in the Poplar Bluff Little League Invitational baseball tournament, beating Dexter 7-0.

Young, who held his opponents hitless once through the regular season, fanned 14 and the final 11 he faced. The hard throwing righthander allowed only one hit in two tournament appearances.

Russell Deal, the tourney's Most Valuable Player, backed Young's effort with a big bat that produced three hits, including a pair of doubles.

The National League All-Stars face the Raiders in an opening game of the Sikeston invitational next week at Puckett field. Illmo-Scott City collides with Parma in the 6 p.m. opener. Oran faces Chaffee at 7:30 and Bertrand meets the Sikeston American League All- Stars at 9.

Tourney scheduled

CHARLESTON — Six teams will compete in the Charleston Jr. Babe Ruth invitational baseball tournament next week. Scott City faces Charleston at 7 p.m. Monday in the event opener.

Scott City, Charleston, and two teams each from Jackson and Sikeston will compete.

The entry fee is $2.50 for singles and $4 for doubles. Trophies will be given. Anyone interested in taking part should contact Dan Bollinger at the Bank of Chaffee.

PARMA — Semifinal round play in the Southeast Missouri Little League championship tournament gets under way here tonight when Portageville and East Prairie collide at 7 p.m. Parma and the Sikeston Stars meet at 8:45.

Sikeston eliminated Hornersville 7-3 and Parma turned back Bernie 16-2 Friday evening to advance into tonight's showdown and remain as one of the four finalists out of the original field of 24 teams.

The finals will be held Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 p.m. with the consolation battle. Trophies will be awarded the four finalists along with a sportsmanship award and two most valuable player honors.

Honorable Mayor and City Council
City of Sikeston
Sikeston, Missouri

Gentlemen:

We have examined the Statement of Assets and Liabilities of the General Fund of the City of Sikeston as of April 30, 1973, and the related Statement of Revenues and Expenditures for the year then ended. In connection therewith, we have reviewed the system of internal control and the accounting procedures of the city and, without making a detailed audit of the transactions, we have examined or tested accounting records of the city and other supporting evidence by methods and to the extent we deemed appropriate. Our examination was made in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards, and accordingly included such tests of the accounting records and such other auditing procedures as we considered necessary in the circumstances.

In our opinion, the accompanying statements present fairly the financial position of the City of Sikeston, at April 30, 1973, and the results of its operations for the year then ended, in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles applied on a basis consistent with that of the preceding year.

Respectfully submitted,
JAMES H. BUCHER
Certified Public Accountant

Plan now for seeding pasture

BLOOMFIELD — Time for seeding permanent pasture is just around the corner, so now is a good time for making plans to get this job done.

The recommended time for seeding permanent pastures in this area is Sept. 1 to Sept. 20. Of course, it is important that fertilizer and lime be applied according to soil needs as determined by a soil test in order to facilitate high yield production and to maintain the stand as long as possible.

If you do not already have a soil test from each field to be seeded to pasture, now is a good time to get it so that you will have your fertilizer and lime recommendations back from the soil laboratory in plenty of time. It is a good idea to apply the basic build-up treatments of fertilizer and lime several weeks before seeding pastures and turn them under as you break the land. If you get enough rain, you can often kill one or two crops of weeds by disking before seeding, and a good firm seedbed will be the result. Then, you can prepare a loose seedbed for seeding the crop by a light disking just prior to seeding.

It is very important the plans be made to provide sufficient pasture, including permanent pasture for the livestock enterprises on the farm. Indications are that some farmers plan their pasture program too much on the basis of what they can expect from permanent pastures during the peak season of production. As a result, they over- estimate the carrying capacity of these pastures. Normally, at least one-half to three fourths acre of fescue- ladino or orchard grass- ladino pasture will be required to carry one steer from about April 15 to June 15. From there until Sept. 1, one to one and one-half acres per cow or steer will be required. For the remainder of the season you can usually count on about two acres per cow or steer, except for a short period after pastures are usually given a boost by increased rainfall during the late summer or early fall period. Of course, the carrying capacity of permanent pastures vary widely with the management practices used as well as weather conditions.

Farmers often ask us for information as to the best permanent pasture mixtures for our area. Fescue and orchard grass are the two most commonly used grasses, and we think they are about the best ones for this area. Both fescue and orchard grass have their advantages and disadvantages, and some farmers like one while others prefer the other.

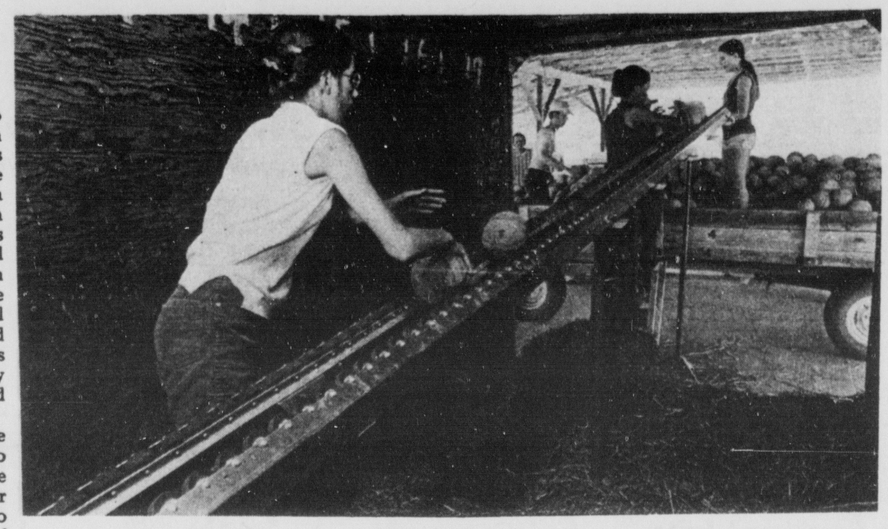
Fescue is long- lived and is more generally adapted to a wide range of soil conditions. It will grow successfully on wetter soils and is more tolerant to grouth conditions. If given a rest and allowed to build up a reserve during the summer and early fall period, fescue will produce more late fall and winter grazing than will any other grass.

Its drawbacks are that fescue lacks quality, especially in midsummer, and it is not as desirable as orchard grass for making hay. Orchard grass is not as long-lived as fescue. Your choice of the main grass to be used in the seeding mixture will depend upon conditions in the field where it is to be seeded, and the use and management to be given the pasture.

Ladino clover will do much to improve permanent pastures in cases where it can be successfully grown. Pastures with a good mixture of ladino are much more palatable than pastures consisting of grasses alone. This is evidenced by the fact that cattle usually show a preference for those spots in the field where ladino is heaviest. Consequently, it will help to increase gains from pastures. In order to produce ladino successfully, the soil must be well limed and fertilized. If the fertility needs of the soil are not to be fully met, perhaps lespeceza would be your best bet.

As far as seeding rates are concerned, a fescue- ladino mixture of 10 pounds of fescue and one pound of ladino clover or an orchard grass - ladino mixture of 12 pounds of orchard grass and one pound of ladino are recommended for well fertilized soils. For infertile soils that are only moderately well fertilized, 15 pounds of lespedeza should be substituted for the ladino.

A Missouri University Guide entitled "How To Establish Pastures" which is available upon request from your county University of Missouri Extension Center will provide additional information on seeding pastures.



Co. uses new operation

A new loading operation is under way at the Beggs Melon Company near Blodgett. These cantaloupes are passed along a conveyor line to loaders in the front of the truck to speed the loading operation. Teresa Beavers, left, and Karen Beavers center, of Blodgett, and Shelly Beggs of Benton are shown here passing the still green cantaloupes along the roller system. One truck can be loaded with this system in half the time that the old hand- to- hand system would take.

New method saves time

The system utilizes a conveyor line with an automatic counter which enables workers to load and count the cantaloupes in four or five hours, about half the time as the old hand- to- hand method.

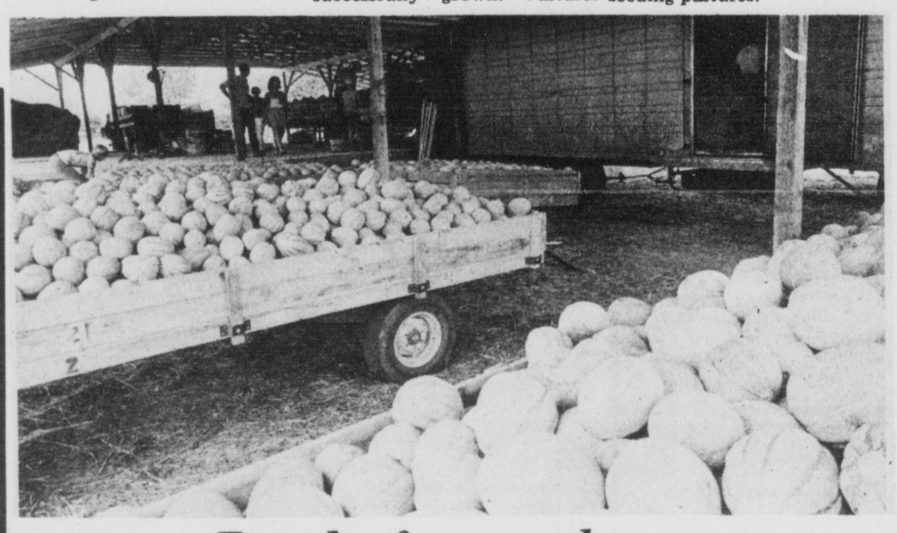
In the loading operation, the cantaloupes are rolled down the conveyor from the loading dock to loaders in the front of the truck instead of passing the melons hand- to- hand.

Green melons are loaded on trucks and shipped to Michigan and Tennessee. Ripe melons are sold locally. Gary Beggs, who runs the company with his brother Don and father W. A. Beggs, says the firm has been shipping 15,000 cantaloupes a day since the harvest began July 23.

The firm has 40 acres of cantaloupes growing just west of interstate Highway 55 by the Blodgett overpass, about a 25 per cent increase over last year, Beggs said.

He said the firm gets a yield of 600 dozen cantaloupes per acre. He termed it a "good average yield."

The crop is being picked by local youths.



Ready for market

Ripe cantaloupes wait for delivery to local markets at the Beggs Melon Company operation near Blodgett. The ripe cantaloupes will go only to local markets, while those that are still gren are shipped to more distant areas.

On this date in 1914, Britain declared war on Germany at the beginning of the World War I.

On this date—

In 1735, freedom of the press was established in the United States as New York publisher John Peter Zenger was acquitted of libel charges brought by the royal governor.

In 1790, a U.S. naval force which later became the Coast Guard was formed.

Nixon expected to sign new farm bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to sign a bill setting up a new farm price-support system, continuing food stamps for strikers and giving Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz broad new power over food prices.

Congress finished work Friday night on the four-year bill that also would lower the ceiling on major crop subsidy payments but permit continued sale or lease of cotton allotments to avoid full impact of the new limit.

The bill would boost minimum milk price supports, ban aid to North Vietnam under U.S. food-for-peace programs unless specifically authorized by Congress, and abolish the so-called bread tax — a wheat certificate program and requirement that processors pay 75 cents a bushel to help finance the price support system.

The major fight in the House centered on a parliamentary maneuver that enabled Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, to steer the Senate-House compromise to victory over forces who wanted to insert a ban on food stamps for most strikers.

Poage won by 252-151 as the House passed the Senate approved bill with a minor revision calling for full production in times of short supply. The Senate promptly accepted the final version by voice vote.

The food stamp section provides semiannual cost-of-living adjustment in the value of coupon allotments effective next Jan. 1 based on price changes through Aug. 31. It also allows food stamps for people in drug and alcohol treatment programs, and makes partial restoration of food stamp eligibility for some old, blind and disabled people who will get federal aid starting Jan. 1 under a new Social Security law.

For wheat, cotton and feed grain growers, the bill sets up a new concept for computing price supports. A "target price," set in the legislation, would stay constant for 1974 and 1975 but would be adjusted in 1976 and 1977 through a formula taking into account farm costs and crop yields.

There would be federal payments only if the market price drops below the target price. Payments would make up the difference between the market price and the target price. Currently, market prices run above the bill's target prices.

Target prices for the first two years would be $2.05 a bushel for wheat, $1.38 a bushel for corn, and 38 cents a pound for cotton.

The bill sets the annual payment limit at $20,000 per farmer, compared with the current $55,000 per crop. Leasing or sale of cotton allotments would be allowed, and payments to farmers for not growing crops would be exempted from the new ceiling.

Cpl. Moyers was instructed in a letter by the Department of Revenue to secure the license of the violator and mail it in.

A patrolman never knows what may confront him when stopping an automobile for even a minor traffic violation ... the case on April 30 when a trooper approached a car to find a .410 gauge shotgun pointing out the window toward him.

The trooper, having been trained for this type of situation, reacted by grabbing the barrel of the gun. When the shot went off, it passed between his arm and side, and he was not injured.

Radar, a source of dislike and aversion to most people, is indispensable to patrolmen in the apprehension of speeders. Although motorists may consider it a nuisance but radar and its effects on speed control saves many lives each year.

Whenever an individual has been operating a motor vehicle and a patrolman has reasonable grounds to believe the operator is intoxicated, he can request the driver to submit to a breathalyzer test. If the driver refuses to take the test, his operator's license can be revoked for one year by the Director of Revenue.

If the individual takes the test and is found to be intoxicated, he is then placed under arrest for driving while intoxicated. If found guilty in court, his driver's license is automatically revoked for a year.

The gun every trooper wears on his side is one tool he hopes not to have to use but, when the unexpected becomes reality, it is imperative that he is prepared. Once a year every trooper is required to attend a fire- arm practice at the Troop E headquarters in Poplar Bluff.

Many men have dreams of becoming a highway patrolman, but only a few can meet the requirements. If accepted, one must undergo six months of physical and mental training at the Missouri State Highway Patrol Law Enforcement Academy in Jefferson City.

The training program includes courses in self-defense, judo, karate, hand to hand combat and how to disarm an assailant. Classes are held on motor vehicle laws, public relations, English courses, sociology, public speaking, Missouri state history, auto theft, finger printing, narcotics and dangerous drugs and defensive driving.

Trainees also are required to know all 114 counties and their county seats as well as all major highways in the state and the direction in which they run.

Patrolmen in Troop E Zone Four include: Sgt. A.E. (Bud) Mills, Cpls. Melvin Moyers and Mendall Clark and Troopers Bob Eddleman, Jerry Crismon, Ron Ryan, Norris Grissom, Mike Robertson and Harvey Harris.

Each of the patrolmen is married and has a family and would consider no other work at this point than precisely what he is doing.

Troop E is considered by some law- enforcement observers to be one of the toughest units in the state, due in part perhaps to the no-nonsense "spit and polish" approach of Capt. Brooks, its commander.

Getting the facts

Investigating accidents takes up much of a patrolman's time. Troopers Bob Eddleman, left, and Mike Robertson question motorists who received minor injuries in an automobile accident.

Prisoner is jailed

An uncooperative prisoner is placed in the Sikeston city jail by Troopers Harvey Harris, left, and Bob Eddleman, where he will remain until he posts bond or appears in court.

Drill practice

Administering test

Cpl. Melvin Moyers, left, administers the breathalyzer test to a person he suspects may be intoxicated. Anyone refusing to take this type test may suffer the penalty of having his operator's license revoked for a period of one year.

Ups and Downs

The bladderwort, a plant that lives under water most of the year, rises to the surface when it flowers. At blossoming time, the bladders fill with air and the plant rises to the surface.

William Conrad Backs Unique Island Prep School

Truly a man for all seasons is William Conrad, who stars as the portly private investigator on "Cannon," seen Wednesdays (9:00- 10:00 PM,) on the CBS Television Network.

An actor, producer, director, yachtsman, aviator, deep- sea fisherman, gourmet and wine connoisseur, Conrad obviously encompasses a broad spectrum of interests.

His consuming interest of the moment, however, is education-- specifically, that of his 16- year- old son Chris, who attends one of the nation's most unusual prep schools, Catalina Island School. There, Chris, as a budding marine biologist, is learning his craft in a veritable treasure trove of marine life. The school is nestled in the lush natural environment of Toyon Bay, Calif., near Avalon Harbor.

To implement the school's curriculum, Conrad senior recently made available his 47- foot yacht "Moonraker" for ocean- going training in a seamanship course. His current project involves shooting a documentary film highlighting the school's emphasis on outdoor programs, including sea kayaking, scuba diving, sailing and camping.

Conrad recently expanded his educational interests, moreover, as guest lecturer before radio and television classes at the University of Wisconsin's Oshkosh campus.

Only Gunsmoke survives television's shootouts

By Dick Kleiner

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — For the first time since Hopalong Cassidy hopped along the TV screens there is only one western on the TV schedule this fall. Such a happening is downright un-American.

The one survivor, of course, is CBS' Gunsmoke, which somehow has managed to last for 19 years. In a couple of seasons it legally will become an adult. As it is, it is old enough to vote.

For a time this summer Gunsmoke was the only show in town which was shooting. During the writers' strike, Gunsmoke managed to film because there was a bunch of scripts left over from last season.

Producer Leonard Katzman — he's a rookie, only three years with the show — said there were 17 or 18 scripts. They picked the best 12 to film. Even then they had a problem. Both Katzman and executive producer John Mantley are members of the Writers' Guild, so they were barred from doing any rewrites which are essential during filming.

"We shot them all long," Katzman says, "and we'll rewrite when we edit and cut."

So Gunsmoke is one show which will be able to answer the gong for the beginning of the season. There are a dozen shows in the can.

As has been the program's custom for the last few years, these dozen hours are virtually an anthology series. You may not be consciously aware of it but Gunsmoke has changed in the last several seasons.

When the antiviolence crusade began, Gunsmoke readjusted its philosophy to conform. It played down Matt Dillon's manly maneuvers and played up character studies of guest stars. The result is a series which tells tales that are pretty much universal, with the western setting merely a backdrop.

Because Matt Dillon (Jim Arness) was the symbol of violence, he's become almost a part-time performer. Katzman says the current formula is to focus on the marshal perhaps six or eight times during the season. In the others, he's very light, although he's always present to some degree.

Fortunately for Arness, this corresponds with his own wishes. He can spend more time off the set than on and that's the way he wants it.

Katzman says the show pushes heavy on the first few programs each season to recapture its audience and fight the stiff competition of the new shows. So the first four or five are big and expensive, usually shot on location.

"To balance our budget," he says, "we do a few 'bottle' shows — that's our word for programs which are inexpensive and require only small sets. That way, we come out even at the end of the season — at least, that's what we strive for."

The show has survived one major cast change, one major illness and the vagaries of public taste for almost two decades. It looks like it can go on for a few more.
